

DOG DIES FROM APPENDICITIS

Autopsy Showed That an Unmistakably the Cause, Induced by Spilled Bones.

And now the dog is subject to appendicitis. At least Dr. William Cooper Edmister, of this city, claims to have made a discovery to that effect while performing an autopsy on the remains of a favorite pet, reports the San Francisco Examiner.

"When the animal died," said the physician, "I was not satisfied with the cause of his taking off and made a careful autopsy. I was assisted by a veterinary surgeon, and we had not been long at our task when it became evident that death had resulted from acute appendicitis."

"The animal had been ill for a year, and in reviewing his symptoms I can see that they were identical with those of humans who suffer from recurrent attacks of this disease. Of course I did not at first think of a dog suffering from anything of this sort. There was no record of such a disease among animals."

"Spilled bones caused my dog's death, and while I am not a veterinary I have come to the conclusion that bones are not the best diet for canines."

Russia May Abolish Her Nobility.

At present the czar's subjects are divided into four general classes—the nobility, the clergy, the inhabitants of the towns and those of the country, says a St. Petersburg correspondent. The nobility is itself of two kinds, hereditary and personal. An officer acquires a life nobility on acquiring a certain rank in the army or navy. Those who attain the rank of colonel in the army and of captain in the navy become hereditary nobles. It is most probable that when the proposed reform of the Russian system of class organization takes place the nobility will cease to exist as a separate class in the nation.

People are most liable to fever between the ages of 15 and 20; 209 out of every 1,000 cases are of that age. There are only ten under five and two over 55.

In country districts where the population is from 100 to 150 to the square mile the death rate is only 10 per 1,000, compared with 24 per 1,000 when there are over 300 to the square mile.

The cow bird deposits its eggs in the nests of other and weaker birds for them to incubate. Only one egg is usually deposited in the nest. The discovery of a summer tanager's nest a short time ago, in which four cow bird eggs exposed besides one of the proprietors, was considered a most unusual case by ornithologists.

Sharp, whose names are hereunto subscribed, do hereby certify and declare our desire to, and we hereby do form a body corporate under and by virtue of, and in accordance with the laws of the territory of Arizona.

ARTICLE I.

The name of such corporation shall be The Columbia Copper Company and the duration of existence of said corporation shall be a period of twenty-five (25) years from the date of the filing of these articles of incorporation in the office of the county recorder of Gila county, territory of Arizona.

ARTICLE II.

The business of said corporation shall consist in the acquisition of mines, mining properties, including coal, copper, precious stones, and marble quarries, by discovery, purchase or lease, and working, developing and the sale of the same; producing or treating of gold and silver and other ores or bullion, transportation of passengers and freight, and the acquisition of such real estate, mill sites, water power and personal property as may be necessary for the carrying on of the business of said corporation.

ARTICLE III.

The principal office of the corporation shall be located at Globe, in the territory of Arizona, and the said company may also maintain a permanent office in the city of St. Louis, state of Missouri, and such other local offices from time to time, at such places as the business of said company require; and the business of said corporation may be carried on in the territory of Arizona, or in any of the states and territories of the United States of America, the state of Central America and in the states of Mexico, and the regular meetings of the stockholders and the directors of said corporation may be held in the city of St. Louis, state of Missouri, or in any other place designated by the board of directors and all proceedings of the stockholders or board of directors had at any such meeting, shall be of the same force and effect as if held at said principal office at Globe, within the said territory of Arizona.

ARTICLE IV.

The capital stock of said corporation shall be the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000).

ARTICLE V.

The capital stock of said corporation shall be divided into one million (1,000,000) shares of the par value of one dollar ($1) each.

ARTICLE VI.

Said corporation is formed generally for the purpose of mining and milling, and the acquiring and selling of mines and mining properties.

ARTICLE VII.

The board of directors of said corporation shall be nine, but said number may be increased by the stockholders to any number not exceeding twenty-one, at any annual meeting of said stockholders.

The directors of said corporation shall have full power and authority to adopt such rules and by-laws as they may deem necessary for the government of said corporation, not inconsistent with the statutes of the territory of Arizona or with the articles of incorporation of this company.

ARTICLE VIII.

The officers of said corporation shall consist of president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and general superintendent, and all of whom shall be elected by the stockholders, or in such other manner as may be provided for by law.

ARTICLE IX.

Private property of the stockholders of this corporation shall be exempt from the corporate debts of this corporation.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals this 27th day of July, A. D. 1901.
